BoG wins central banking's Fintech Policy of the Year Award 2022: The Bank of Ghana (BoG) has won the Central Banking's FinTech Policy of the Year Award 2022. This follows the Bank's remarkable development of a Supervisory Intelligence Platform, which aims to streamline the collection and analysis of granular data from regulated FinTechs. The platform also enhances the Bank's capabilities for evidence-based policy interventions in the dynamic digital financial service ecosystem. (thebftonline)

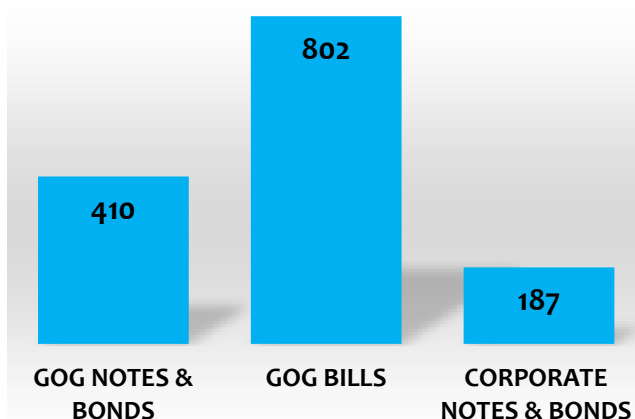

AfCFTA: Customs processing applications of local companies for Continent-wide trading: Applications of some local companies to trade under the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) agreement are currently being processed according to Fechin Yao Akoto, Assistant Commissioner at the Customs Division of the Ghana Revenue Authority (GRA). The processing of these applications by local companies shows Ghana's readiness to trade under the AfCFTA. According to Mr. Akoto, the Customs Division has put in place all the needed systems to assess and ascertain if products meet the requisite rules and qualify to trade under the AfCFTA. Already, Ghana has listed 6,000 goods and services with harmonized codes that are qualified to trade under the agreement. (Norvanreports)
